

Since 1992 Office profile

Who are we?

Since 1992, we at Sjöcrona · van Stigt have dedicated ourselves solely to defending criminal cases. Our reputation, both in the Netherlands and abroad, is impeccable due to our successes and our proverbial discretion.

Our specialists provide legal assistance in criminal proceedings, both before and during the court process. At first instance, on appeal and before the Supreme Court in cassation. And also before the European Court of Human Rights in Strasbourg. Often, prevention is better than cure. And we do advise on prevention. Unsettling interest from the police and judicial authorities can often be prevented by sound and timely advice, for instance on: Health & Safety policies, compliance with permit conditions, the division of duties and responsibilities at management level and in Supervisory Boards. Clear-cut, practical and goal-driven assistance. This is what you can expect from us.

Whom do we help?

Most of our clients are from the corporate world. We assist both SMEs and listed, international companies. Authorities and private individuals can also count on us. Our services are often requested via business service suppliers such as tax consultants, accountants and lawyers who are not specialised in our areas of expertise.

Discretion guaranteed

We have adopted a restrictive press policy. We will approach the media only if and when it serves the case and not without the client's prior permission.

Appointment?

Do you wish to make an appointment with one of our lawyers? For advice or orientation? We are happy to welcome you at our offices in The Hague or Rotterdam. If you want, we will of course come to you.
